

K-Love Radio station is my source of uplifting, it helps keep me grounded during stressful times of the week. The numbers of people who tell K-Love how they have helped them, some even to the point of hearing a song and turning from suicide, more than justifies - demands - they remain on the air. We must have access to this positive influence.